I installed the ngx-translate via npm npm install ngx-translate --save I imported the translation inside the component, I've placed the translation files in the json folder inside the root directory. Then created the [ngx-translate]( service. inside the service I imported the TranslateModule and the TranslateLoader, let translateLoader: TranslateLoader; let translate: TranslateService; inside the providers declaration I declared: {provide: TranslateService, useFactory: translateLoaderFactory, deps: [HttpClient]}, {provide: TranslateLoader, useClass: JsonLoader, deps: [HttpClient]}, {provide: TranslateComponent, useValue: translateComponent} and the constructor constructor(private httpClient: HttpClient) { translateLoader = translateLoaderFactory.create('lang'); translate = translateLoader.get('./assets/i18n/lang_en.json'); } The issue is that it gets the translations inside the html like this Service error It's weird because this url still points to english, [ the service request goes to the correct route, [ so it seems that angular is either getting the template from the server instead of the JSON file or it's not finding the service.
